

A LIMERIKU ON POEM-WRITING

Some writers are challenged with rhyming.

Still others have trouble with timing.

One wise poet said,

“Plant sound wisdom as you’re led;

minds must thrive well-fed:

your verses serve only as priming.”

— David L. Hatton, 8/12/2020