

CELEBRATING YOUR BIRTH

When I celebrate your birth,
I would like to match your worth
With a gift that would compare
To a tithe of how I care.
But the wealth of all the earth
Cannot touch a tenth your worth.
So, my love, this card I write,
Token only of delight
That my heart finds ever new
In the treasure that is you. . . .

— David L. Hatton, 6/22/1992