

EQUATIONS

Logic offers a realistic equation:

Free-Will Choice
(don't want to give that up) multiplied by
A Sense of Right and Wrong (can't see tossing that either)
equals
Moral Accountability
(must live with it, die with it)

But God offers a divine equation:

Our Moral Failures (can't wiggle free of those) divided by
God's Grace in Christ's Cross
(if Jesus is Who He claimed)
equals
Pardon and Peace for Eternity
(the result verifiable in real time)

Sound too good to balance out?

If God is truly a Lover
(as Jesus Christ portrayed Him), Go figure! The latter equation is the most human-friendly in existence!

I plugged my Free-Will Choice
into that divine calculations's Divisor.

Do the math yourself! It works!
