

GROWTH

For us to grow, we need to change—
not just astutely rearrange
our treasured ways and knowledge store,
but reach beyond to stretch our core.
What's tritely vogue must be let go:
our minds must change, if we would grow.

— David L. Hatton, 1/16/2020